Rondout National Bank Plans For Modern Bank

Has Purchased Three Story Brick Building at 22-28 East Strand Which Houses Johnston's Drug Store and Abraham's Millinery—Plans for New Banking Institution Will Be Drawn Up Later.

The Rondout National Bank has purchased the three story brick building at 22-28 East Strand, which houses the Johnston's drug store and Abraham's millinery, with the offices of Dr. A. Stern on the second floor and the apartments on the third floor. The building was purchased by the bank in order to carry out a plan to erect some time in the future a modern banking building. The bank at the present time is located on the street in the rear of the building just purchased. The price paid for the building was not made public. James F. Dwyer, president of the bank, confirmed the purchase of the building when seen today, and stated that the bank was planning an enlarged and modern structure, but that no definite plans for its erection had been announced as yet. He also stated that the present location of the bank was not yet ready to go ahead with the proposed construction.

Lancer's Sentence, 3 Years 6 Months

Maximum Sentence Seven Years for Man Convicted of Arson, Third Degree—Harold Murdock Not Wanted by North Carolina Authorities, His Bail Bond Cancelled.

Isidore Lancer, found guilty of arson, third degree, in county court last week, was this morning sentenced by County Judge Joseph M. Fowler to an indeterminate term in the Clinton State Prison at Dannemora, the minimum of which shall be three years and six months and the maximum seven years. Lancer was found guilty of setting his store and residence property on Albany avenue afire on December 27 last.

Before sentence was pronounced, Frank W. Brooks, who appeared for Lancer, moved to set aside the verdict of the jury and asked for a new trial on the grounds that the verdict was contrary to the law, the facts and the evidence. Judge Fowler denied the request and stated that the verdict was entirely justified by the evidence in the case.

Mr. Brooks also asked the court to have Lancer remain in the custody of the sheriff for a time until application for a certificate of reasonable doubt could be made. This cannot be done until the testimony is written out and notice given. It will take a week to have the testimony written out and Judge Fowler directed that Lancer be kept here until further directions were given by the court as to his transfer to Dannemora.

Scott Case Over Term

The trial of the indictment charging abduction in the Walter Scott case was put over the term. Mrs. Scott is ill and unable to appear in court for at least a week.

An indictment charging grand larceny found against George Atkins was dismissed. Frank W. Brooks moved the dismissal on the grounds that restitution had been made, and Assistant District Attorney Murray consented.

Richard Cameron, who was awaiting sentence on a charge of grand larceny, was sentenced to the Elmira state reformatory there to be confined until discharged by law.

Murdock Not Wanted in South

Harold Murdock, who was held in $2,000 bail a few days ago on a charge of being a fugitive from justice from the state of North Carolina, was released from custody. Murdock was arrested a few days ago by Officer Van Buren on information received by the police department from the sheriff of Pamlico county, North Carolina, who notified the police Murdock was wanted in North Carolina on a charge of bigamy. Murdock after being arraigned in city court and held in jail pending the movements of the North Carolina authorities was admitted to bail in county court, bail being fixed at $2,000, for his appearance in court on December 9. Since that time the local police have been notified by the North Carolina authorities that Murdock should be released. Mr. Brooks, appearing for Murdock, asked therefore that the bail bond be cancelled. Since the southern authorities do not desire his being held, Judge Fowler cancelled bail.

No additional trial work will be undertaken at this term of the court and all jurors were excused from further service. Court went into recess until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock without jury or officers.

Coolidge Letter On Development Of Mississippi

President Tells of Importance of Development of The Mississippi Waterway, For Transportation To Large Section of Country.

St. Louis, Nov. 22 (AP).—Development of the Mississippi waterways for transportation purposes is of great importance to a large section of the country and should go on as rapidly as financial resources will permit, President Coolidge said in a letter read today at the opening session of the Mississippi Valley Association convention.

The president's letter, addressed to James E. Smith, president of the association, follows:

"Much to my regret I find it impossible to accept your invitation to make an address at the eighth annual convention of the Mississippi Valley Association, to be held in St. Louis the latter part of this month. I cannot refrain, however, from sending a word to emphasize my interest in the principal matter to be considered.

"In my messages to congress I have expressed my opinion that the development of the waterways of the Mississippi for transportation purposes is of great importance to a large section of our country. I want this work to go on as rapidly as our financial resources will permit. To that end I had an additional item of ten million dollars put into the present budget.

"Your association can be most helpful in crystallizing public sentiment and in considering and suggesting the best ways in which your waterways may be improved so as to furnish the maximum of service to your people and to the nation at large."

Believe Hunters Were Drowned

Finding of John Eden's Hat Floating in Basin Bay Strengthens Belief That He and L. D. Green Were Drowned in Lake George.

Lake George, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP).—Belief that L. D. Green of Middletown and John J. Eden of Arden have been drowned in Lake George was strengthened today by the finding of Eden's hat floating in Basin Bay, north of Bolton. Green and Eden have been missing since November 15, when they started in a motorboat on a duck hunting trip.

A posse of American Legion members was organized to search Basin Bay this afternoon in an effort to locate the bodies of the missing men. The finding of Eden's hat in the bay did not necessarily indicate that the men met with an accident in that locality, as it might have floated there from some other part of the lake.

An airplane flew over the lake today, but the observers did not discover any trace of the missing hunters. Search from the air was to be resumed this afternoon.

Need of a Home Causes Divorces

Chicago, Nov. 22 (AP).—An edict against easy divorce was pronounced today by Judge Marcus A. Kavanagh, dean of Chicago jurists, as he took over his assignment as judge of the divorce court.

"In hearing divorce cases I am going to make it a rule that the cause must be proved and residence here established. Chicago should not have her good name tarnished by floundering into the city and pretending residence to which they are not entitled."

"One of the main reasons for the troubling unrest which lies behind most separations is want of a home," said the judge, "there are few divorces among people who own their own homes."

"Today the strongest recollection children have of their home is the picture of a moving van on May 1. Three-fourths of the defendants in criminal court come from broken homes, caused by death, desertion or divorce."

PETROLEUM ARRESTED FOLLOWING COLLISION

Eloquent Tribute To Dr. O'Leary

St. Peter's Church Thronged With Friends Who Pay Last Tribute of Respect to Kingston Physician—Many Floral Tributes—Organizations Show Their Respect.

The funeral of Dr. William J. O'Leary was held this morning at 10 o'clock from the late residence, No. 137 Fair street, and at 11 o'clock from St. Peter's Church where a solemn Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul. The Rev. John P. Neuman, pastor of the church, officiated with Father John Waldron of St. Mt. Alphonsus, Esopus acting as deacon, and Father Joseph Huband, subdeacon. Father Waldron also gave the eulogy.

The bearers honorary and active were old time friends and patients of Dr. O'Leary. Honorary bearers were: Judge James Jenkins, E. E. Fessenden, Sam Jacobson, Francis J. Schilling, John Carrington, Arthur Rice, Judge Harry E. Schirlick, Stephen Hitebrant, Raphael Cohen, William R. Kraft, Martin Goldrick, W. D. Brunner, Arthur Davis, Dr. G. L. Hill, Dr. Morton Low, Edward Scherer. Active bearers were: A. H. Chambers, Kenneth E. Archer, E. Frank Flanagan, John Hamberly, Charles Mullen, and William Powers.

Sunday evening the members of Kingston Lodge, No. 550, B. P. O. E., of which Dr. O'Leary was a member, visited the home of their late brother where the Elks' funeral services were conducted. Grand Exalted Ruler Joseph Hurley of Jersey City Lodge of Elks conducted the services, coming to Kingston especially to conduct this service for the local lodge. Members of Kingston Council, No. 275, Knights of Columbus, with Grand Knight Florian P. Winger at their head, also visited the home of their late brother Sunday evening and under the leadership of the Rev. John de Krom, pastor of Our Lady of Victory Chapel, recited the Rosary.

At St. Mary's school hall this morning as the funeral procession passed from the late residence to the church, it was joined by the Sisters, nurses and medical staff of the Benedictine Hospital, of which Dr. O'Leary was a member, and by the members of the Ulster County Medical Society. The Sisters, nurses and doctors took up their position in the procession and walked to the church where the services were conducted.

As the funeral cortege arrived at the church on Warts street a large delegation of Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus formed on each side of the entrance with swords crossed while the nurses and physicians assisted in forming a lane through which the body was carried into the church where the Mass was celebrated.

Long before the hour set for the church services the edifice was filled with the sorrowing friends of Dr. O'Leary who were present to pay a last tribute of respect to his memory.

During the Mass several of the Catholic clergy from Kingston and vicinity sat within the church. Among the many floral tributes sent by friends and relatives was a large wreath ordered by Babe Ruth, the famous base ball player, by telegraph to Valentin Burgevin, Inc., through Christy Walsh on Saturday. Among those who were in town to attend the funeral services were Mother Monica, head of the Benedictine Order, all of the former Sister superintendents of the Benedictine Hospital, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Sinnott of New Rochelle, a noted surgeon and friend of deceased; Mrs. George McNeill of Rochester and son George of Brooklyn, Miss Zaida Boyd of Jersey City and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hurley of Jersey City.

Interment was made in St. Peter's cemetery. The funeral cortege was extremely large.

The high esteem in which Dr. O'Leary was held not only in Kingston and neighboring sections but throughout the state was demonstrated by the throng which came Sunday throughout the day to pay their last respect to him and by the floral tributes which surrounded the casket and were banked high on either side.

Bluefish Looms Large in Alibi of Henry Stevens

Neighbors From Lavellette Testify That They Saw Henry Stevens on the Beach at 10 O'Clock the Night of the Double Murder.

Courthouse, Somerville, N. J., Nov. 22 (AP).—A six pound "blue," caught by Arthur Applegate of Lavellette on the night of September 11, 1922, continued to win posthumous fame as the Hall-Mills trial proceeded here today. This big bluefish looms large in the alibi offered by Henry Stevens charged with his sister, Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, and brother, Willie Stevens, with the murder of Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills.

Henry Stevens testified in his own defense that he weighed a six pounder caught by Arthur Applegate on the night the choir singer was slain with the Rev. Edward W. Hall, brother-in-law of Stevens. Neighbors from Lavellette came again today to testify that they saw Stevens on the beach the night of September 14, 1922, three placing him there at 10 p. m. or after. The killing is alleged to have taken place about 10:20 o'clock, fifty miles from the New Jersey coast town.

Woman a Fiery Witness

Mrs. Mazie Applegate, wife of Arthur Applegate, testified that she saw the defendant on the beach "about ten o'clock or a little later." She was a fiery witness and replied with flashing eyes to questions on cross-examination by the special prosecutor, Alexander Simpson.

Mr. Applegate, who showed the way in hooking "blues" on the night of September 14, 1922, is a carpenter. Mrs. Applegate said she saw the bluefish weighed.

Applegate supported his wife's testimony when he followed her to the stand and said that after leaving Stevens at the beach in front of his house, they reached home at 10:35. He also gave some additional details of the catching of the big fellow before the weighing ceremony took place.

Another witness who saw Stevens on the beach as late as 9:55 o'clock was Howard Price, a paint dealer of West Philadelphia, who lives a part of his time at Lavellette.

Prepared His Lunch and Supper

Mrs. Anna Evanson, a placid Swedish woman, told of preparing lunch and supper for Henry Stevens on the day and evening of September 14, 1922, and of his presence in his home and vicinity all of the following day and a portion of Saturday. She denied that she had been in hiding from police at any time since the investigation started. Reporters came to see her soon after the killing and again this year, she said.

Joseph H. Hines of No. 55 Moore street fell from a tree in his yard shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon, sustaining a fracture of the skull and a compound fracture of the left leg and ankle besides other injuries. His condition is considered so critical that Dr. A. H. Mambert and Dr. George F. Chandler, who had been called, decided it not wise to remove him to the Kingston City Hospital in the ambulance.

It is said that Mr. Hines had climbed up a tree to trim some of the branches and in descending made a misstep and fell to the ground, a distance of about thirty feet.

Kills His Uncle And Aunt, Turns Gun on Sister

Young Man Shot and Killed His Uncle and Aunt and Then Turned Gun on Sister—Appeared Dazed When Questioned.

Bridgeport, N. J., Nov. 22 (AP).—Mr. and Mrs. William Gandy were shot and killed today by Linwood Ware, 22 years old, their nephew, who also turned his revolver on his sister, Mrs. Madeline Maxwell, 26 years old. She is reported to be dying in the hospital here.

Mr. and Mrs. Gandy and Mrs. Maxwell lived with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ware, parents of Linwood. While the family was at breakfast in the dining room, the youth entered from the kitchen with an automatic revolver in his hand. He opened fire on his aunt and uncle and then directed the weapon at his sister. After seeing the three fall from their chairs, he walked out of the house.

Leon Leeds, a special officer, saw the youth and called on him to surrender. The youth threw up his hands and his revolver fell from under his coat where it had been concealed.

In a cell at city jail later the youth appeared dazed and under questioning by the police he began to cry for his mother. All the police could get from him was that he had a faint recollection of having "shot somebody."

According to the boy's mother, he had been nervous and cross lately. She told Prosecutor Thomas G. Tressa she was very much concerned about his actions lately.

The boy was idle and, according to neighbors, was regarded as abnormal.

Love Adventuress Slain by Admirer

George Barnett Deserts His Wife and Three Children to Follow Widow. Whom He Kills and Then Turns Gun on Himself.

San Francisco, Nov. 22 (AP).—A story of numerous heart conquests by a young widow who finally was slain by the most persistent of her lovers has been unfolded here with the death of Mrs. Betty Claire King.

The love adventuress was shot to death in a restaurant here Saturday night while the patrons looked on helplessly. Her assailant was George W. Barnett, who deserted his wife and three children in Minneapolis to follow the fascinating widow.

After killing Mrs. King, the object of his insane jealousy, Barnett shot himself through the head. Physicians say he cannot live.

Police detectives investigating the case said they learned that Mrs. King had for several years fitted moth-like from one admirer to another, sometimes "playing" several at a time. Even on the night she was killed, police say she had planned a meeting with a man with whom her name had been linked recently. Barnett's jealousy of this man is thought to have been the immediate motive for the slaying.

Gets 20 Years for Brickyard Murder

James H. Lewis, 25, colored, of Danville, Va., was sentenced to serve twenty years in Sing Sing prison on Saturday in Poughkeepsie by Judge Taylor for the murder of Bob Griswold at Dutchess Junction. In imposing the sentence the justice declared that conditions at the brickyards at Dutchess Junction were deplorable and that too much drinking and the use of cocaine prevailed among the residents instead of the spirit of Jesus Christ. Lewis, who manifested a jovial attitude throughout the court proceedings, received out the sentence with tears in his eyes and declared he had nothing to say. Second degree murder was the charge on which he was convicted.

Rural Church Problems Serious

Change in Farm Ownership From Native Born to Foreign Born Stock, Extension of Rural Industry and Local Prejudices Among Contributing Causes.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 22 (AP).—The rural church situation constitutes a serious problem in the religious activities of the United States, according to the report prepared by the late Dr. D. D. Forsyth of Philadelphia, corresponding secretary of the Board of Home Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church. The report was delivered at the annual meeting of the board here.

Two of the factors named by Dr. Forsyth as being the most prominent in making the situation acute were a steady influx of foreign peoples into farming areas and a gradual change-over of agricultural into industrial districts. A third reason, corollary to the first, he declared to be an increase of tenants on the farms.

"It may be," he said in commenting upon possible solutions of the problem, "that we have not mastered the technique of our job. Possibly we should have more trained women workers who can get out into the sparsely settled regions and provide a religious ministry in the homes and schools without the emphasis upon central assemblies which we sometimes have had. We are in need of more workers and better pay for those we have."

Foreign Stocks Taking Farms.
"There is perhaps no situation of more vital concern to those of us who are interested in the future of Protestant Christianity in this country," the report set forth in discussing the rural problem itself, "than the rapid changes which are taking place in the population of our rural areas. Little by little our native born American farming groups have been and are being replaced by foreign stocks. The only section where this movement has not taken place on a large scale is in our southeastern states.

"California, the Dakotas, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania and all of New England furnish striking illustrations of this movement in population.

"Parallel with this large influx of foreign peoples into our farming areas is the rapid growth in recent decades of our farm tenant population. Another factor which is tending to aggravate the problems of the rural church is the extension over considerable areas of rural industry, with a resultant influx of many peoples often indifferent to the church. These industrial areas include small factory towns and also large coal mining, quarrying and oil-producing centers. Our logging and saw-mill communities are of a similar sort.

"In multitudes of these places religious ministry will be allowed to lapse, and boys and girls will grow up without contact with the church unless outside aid is provided for by the community.

Organizations Die Through Prejudice.
"In many cases the religious forces of communities are split by denominational differences and strong prejudices have been allowed to develop through the years. Local organizations have been small and weak and the resultant death rate among them has been enormous, so that important areas including some entire counties are entirely without religious ministry. The rural church with its inadequate support and with competition in many fields does not furnish sufficient challenge to men entering the ministry to do work in such fields.

"Unless Protestants can find a way to face the rural church situation together, thus challenging strong and able men to enter our rural ministry, there is very grave danger that much of our countryside which has been the very cradle and feeder of Protestantism in this country, will revert to conditions of actual paganism. In some cases this condition already exists. If organized Christianity falls among our agricultural and other rural populations, it will ultimately fall in our larger places."

THE QUEEN'S ERRAND.

To "put Rumania on the map" was Queen Marie's real purpose in coming to this country, according to Chicago dispatches. "Every country needs a face," she is quoted as saying. "I want Rumania to have a face. I am here to be that face, to make Rumania something more personal than statistics and maps."

Noting that "unfortunately Rumania already has a face," the New York World unsparingly adds: "It is the face of a Balkan power which has been embroiled for years in Balkan intrigue, Balkan wars and Balkan territory-snatching. It is the face of a small nation which has become a large nation overnight simply by waiting until its statesmen were certain who was going to win the war,
 coming in on the right side and doubling their country's territory and its population at the expense of Hungarians and other alien races who had no wish to be annexed. It is the face of a belligerently medieval state where feudal landlordism still exists, where peasants toil as serfs, minorities are oppressed, Jews are baited, elections are decided by the bayonets
 of the government, and the brutality of a 'White Terror' applied to several thousand enemies of the government has shocked the Continent of Europe."

Though all this may be true, and only the special student of late Balkan history can say, it is safe enough to conclude that Queen Marie herself is not responsible, that she would gladly make conditions in Rumania what they ought to be, and that her country (of which she is not a native)
 is the better for her presence and activities in it.

NO MORE "WORLD COURT."

In his reference to the matter of the "World Court" in the course of his Kansas City speech, President Coolidge said that many of the nations have indicated unwillingness to concur in the conditions adopted by the resolution of the Senate, and went on to announce: "I feel warranted in saying that I do not intend to ask the Senate to modify its position. I do not believe the Senate would take favorable action on any such proposal, and unless the requirements of the Senate resolution are met by the other interested nations I can see no prospect of this country
 adhering to the Court."

The impression conveyed is that Mr. Coolidge is conscious of no further responsibility and feels little or no regret over the failure of a policy
 to which he and President Harding,
 his party and its platform, have repeatedly given their pledge of support. He seems to be willing enough to drop the matter and be rid of the embarrassment of having to face the bombardment of the irreconcilables.
 Certainly it would appear to be significant that he neither speaks a word for the Court nor expresses regret.
 After all, it may be that Mr. Coolidge has never cared much for a policy which he inherited and which has caused much disturbance within his party. His announcement may be regarded as the end of the World Court controversy, at least for a time. If it should come to the front again and have real life put into it, that result will be due to a leader more keenly interested than Mr. Coolidge.

GOOD SENSE.

We read that at a recent convention of building owners and managers
 a committee of women in the real estate business turned in a report on certain phases of the management of commercial buildings, including a recommendation "that members of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers strive to educate the elevator passengers in commercial buildings to refrain from removing their hats while in the presence of ladies, in order that a uniform rule of etiquette may prevail."

This is good sense. There is no more need reason why a man should remove his hat in a crowded elevator of a department store or a railroad station—cranking his head-covering and covering his neighbor in order to do so—than that he should keep his hat off on the floor of the department store or in the waiting-room brown ladies are present, behind the com-ters, walking about, or sitting in the seats pending the arrival of their trains. If politeness requires the one,

 it also requires the other, and if it requires the other the logical conclusion is that he should also walk uncovered in the streets, where shopping or other ladies are never out of sight.
 Most men take off their hats in the elevators of public buildings only because they see another man do it and fear to be thought lacking in manners, or because of the critical eye of some home-bound stenographer or visibly imperfect breeding—reasons obviously not above challenge.
 Though hat-lifting in a public elevator is still regarded by some as an act of conventional courtesy, it is regarded by many as an absurdity.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

WHAT HAPPENS TO THE FOOD.

I met a bank manager some time ago, a man with as much sense as the rest of us, and he didn't know that there were two tubes in the throat, one in front going down to the lungs, and one immediately behind it which carried the food down to the stomach.

He thought that there was only the one tube.

I met a lawyer shortly after this who said he couldn't figure out just what happened to the food when it passed through the kidneys.

I have wondered why these men should have shown such a lack of knowledge of the body, and have come to the conclusion that they could not have been educated in our public schools, where an elementary knowledge of physiology is obtained by every youngster.

Perhaps just a few words about digestion will bring it all back to your mind, and help you to watch your diet and eating to some extent. It is by food, and the way it is handled by the body, that means your life, means you.

The food should be chewed well.
 That's why you have teeth, and the chewing enables the first digestive juice, the saliva, to mix well with the food. This gives the food its first real start in digestion, so don't neglect it.

The food then passes to the stomach and stays there for two to four hours, whilst it gets churned up by the stomach muscles until it is thoroughly mixed with the second digestive juice, gastric juice. It then goes to the small intestine in pretty good shape for the next two juices,
 that is the bile and pancreatic juice,
 to give it the finishing touches it needs to prepare it for absorption into the blood. After going through 20 feet of small intestine, during which all the good in the food is drawn or absorbed into the blood,
 what is left enters the large intestine, and after a six foot journey it passes out of the body.

Your thought should be to eat regularly of mixed foods, to give digestion a real start by being rested before you eat, and to chew the food well before you let it start its journey through your body.

Today's Story in
New York History

Whigs in New York Name New Committee of Sixty to Represent Their Views, November
 22, 1774.

The birth of liberty in the State of New York practically occurred in the Colonial Convention to consider the Stamp Act, October 7, 1760.

With the accession of George III., October 25, 1760, a new conflict broke out between the colonists and the authorities. All commissions expired with the sovereign. It was now contemplated to permit the judges to hold office only "during his Majesty's pleasure" instead of
 "during good behavior."

Up to March 31, 1774, when the Boston Port Bill became a law, agitation throughout the Provinces had become more pronounced and the people more and more unsettled. The battle of Golden Hill, in New York city, January, 1770, had inflamed the public mind to their possibilities,
 and the representatives of the Crown in their constant collisions with the Sons of Liberty over the destruction of their Liberty Pole contributed naught in diminishing the drift of popular sentiment.

On May 23, 1774, New York published its declaration of rights at Faunce's Tavern in New York city.
 Two months later delegates were chosen for the first Continental Congress which convened in Philadelphia September 5, 1774. The several colonies expressed their approval of the proceedings of this Congress;
 New York alone refused to do so, but finally yielded.

In November, 1774, the Committee of Fifty-One was dissolved, and at a meeting of "freeholders and freemen," held at City Hall, November 22, 1774, a committee of sixty persons was chosen "for carrying into execution the Association entered into by the Continental Congress." Isaac Low was chairman.

The first session of the New York Assembly after the adjournment of the Continental Congress began January 10, 1775. In it was a clear working majority of Tories. Colonel Philip Schuyler was the acknowledged leader of the Whigs. He was ably supported by George Clinton and others, and they resolved to have the political issues between the people and the Government distinctly drawn.

The venerable Colden, now at the head of the Provincial Government, was a Loyalist, but now conservative in feeling. He exhorted the Assembly to discontinue measures calculated to increase the public distress,
 and promised them aid.

On January 26, a question came up which tested the political character of the Assembly. Abraham Ten-broeck moved that the House should "take into consideration the proceedings of the Continental Congress," etc. The motion was negatived by a majority of only one. Even this small majority gave great joy to the Tories. One of them wrote: "Worthy old Silver Locks (Colden), when he heard that the Assembly had acted right, cried out, 'Lord, how latestest thy servant depart in peace.'"

Many motions were made by the Whigs to bring the subject of the Continental Congress before the Assembly, but in each such attempt they were defeated. The Assembly agreed, by a majority vote, that Parliament had a right to tax the colonials without their consent.

On April 3, 1775, the Provincial Assembly of New York—a legislative body which had existed more than one hundred years—was adjourned never to meet again. The people now took public matters in their own hands. The whole continent was moving rapidly toward an attitude of rebellion and self-government. The newspapers were filled with exciting matter, and warlike preparations were observed on every side. General Gage, in command at Boston, became alarmed, and began fortifying Boston Neck.

While constitutional government had gone, and the sentiment of the English party in New York City was naturally in sympathy with England, the old Dutch settlers, with their bitter remembrance of the century of English rule, were almost unanimously in favor of revolution.
 The republicans having failed in their efforts in the Assembly to procure appointment of delegates to the Second Continental Congress, which was to convene in Philadelphia, May 10, nothing was left for them but to appeal to the people.
 The new "Committee of sixty," exercising the functions of government, took measures to assemble a convention at which representatives from the several counties were chosen.

At a Provincial Convention held April 30, at the Exchange with forty-two delegates in attendance, they chose Philip Livingston, James Duane, John Alton, John Jay, Simon
 Noorum, William Floyd, Henry Wis-
 now, Philip Schuyler, George Clinton, Lewis Morris, Francis Lewis and Robert R. Livingston delegates to represent the Province of New York in the Continental Congress.
 Grave events were happening with great rapidity.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

A MARY GRAHAM BONNER
THE SQUIRREL'S RESCUE

It was half morning and half raining, and the fairies were hoping it would get just a little colder.

Then it would freeze, and the snowy rain would stick to the trees and make most beautiful crystals and icicles, and they could play the castle game.

Whenever there were icicles, or pretty ice shapes the Queen and the Fairies would call the other fairies and say: "Let's play the castle game."

Then the fairies would come from all around and get in their places for the castle game.

The Queen of the Fairies would pretend that she was to have the castle taken for her.

They made believe that the icicles were turrets and towers, back of which was a huge wandering castle in which were prisoners held captive.

The Queen of the Fairies would pretend that she was the new queen of a land whose subjects had been badly treated.

And she would begin her reign with no prisoners.

So all the fairies who were her followers helped her to destroy all the turrets and towers of icicles.

Then the castle could come down and the prisoners get away without being seen.

Well, they got plenty of snowballs ready first and hit at the icicles with the snowballs.

The biggest and strongest icicles which wouldn't come down with just the snowballs they would pull down.

And, oh, such fun and laughing as they always do have over this game!

The day I'm telling you about it did freeze, and they did commence their game of pulling down the castle.

The playground they chose was in a quarry where there were plenty of icicles attached to the rocks.

But behind an icicle what do you suppose they found?

A little gray squirrel had jumped to a rock cliff where he had seen some nuts stowed away.

After eating some of the nuts he had evidently felt so tired and sleepy that he had fallen asleep; for he was a very young squirrel.

And as he slept it had grown suddenly very much colder, and the icicle by the rock on which he was had grown so thick that he couldn't pass it.

So when the icicle was hit by a snowball and still did not fall down one of the fairies went up and pulled it down.

You know that fairies have a great deal of strength, even though they are so dainty and light.

You can imagine the joy of the fairies when they found their imaginary game had really become true and that they had rescued a little squirrel.

The squirrel was very cold, but he had kept somewhat warm sleeping, and he was soon revived by jumping around.

He was so grateful to the fairies for saving his life that he invited them to the squirrel's next nut party.

Newburgh Beat K. H. S. Eleven

Kingston High School's football eleven went down to defeat in the last game of the season Saturday at Newburgh when Newburgh beat them 16 to 0.

During the first half Kingston held Newburgh 6 to 0, but in the second part of the game they went to pieces and allowed Newburgh to run up 20 more points, failing to make any for themselves.

Fitzpatrick was the star for Newburgh's team, making two long runs for a touchdown.

In the early periods Kingston's line was like an iron wall holding Newburgh within a few yards of the goal line, with only a few inches' gains. However, the line was not able to hold later in the game and Newburgh went through for various gains.

WESTERN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP UNDECIDED

Chicago, Nov. 22 (AP).—The Western conference curtain has descended again, with two teams, Northwestern and Michigan, reigning as undefeated champions, but with the mythical championship in reality undecided.

This season's battles demonstrated that the Big Ten schedule was poorly arranged for the deciding of a championship. While theoretically the Purple and the Wolverines divided honors, in reality each was the champion of one half of the conference.

Each team won five conference battles against four Big Ten teams. Northwestern defeated Indiana, Iowa, and Purdue, Chicago and Wisconsin, and Michigan defeated Wisconsin and Ohio State. The Wolverines admittedly played the stronger teams, but Northwestern won by consistently larger scores. The Evanston players rolled up the largest point score, and also held their opponents to the lowest tally. Michigan barely staved off defeat twice.

That's as far as comparative records go, except that each team lost one non-conference game, Michigan falling before Navy and Northwestern succumbing to Notre Dame. It might be mentioned, however, that Rockne's men found their toughest opponent in the Purple, which held the Indians to the closest score of their schedule, 6 to 0.

Sport Briefs Of All Sorts

(By The Associated Press)

Georgetown supporters offered a new wrinkle to the art of destroying enemy goal posts after the 39-0 victory over Fordham Saturday by ripping up both sets of standards and breaking them into fragments for a bonfire in the center of the field. Newspapers, programs, torn apparel, and a few "iron hats" provided additional fuel.

Louis "Kid" Kaplan's first assault on the lightweight ranks will bring the retired featherweight champion into collision with Billy Wallace, in Cleveland, December 2. Tex Rickard is dickering with Eddie Kane, manager of Sammy Mandel of Chicago, the lightweight titleholder for a championship match with Kaplan in New York late in December.

Jack Connor, quarterback of the New York University eleven that met its first defeat of the season in the final contest of the year at Nebraska Saturday was chosen captain of the team for the 1927 season by acclamation before the squad left Lincoln yesterday. The Violets never have named a football leader without a formal election. Connor is a junior and resides near Boston.

BOYS BRING DOWN NINE POUND GOOSE

A party composed of Lial Startup, Walter Startup and Edward Schatzel of Ellenville journeyed out to the Silver Lake country several days ago and returned with the biggest goose in the world. About nine pounds in weight, it measured nearly thirty inches from bow to stern and boasted a wing spread of over five and a half feet.

The boys had armed against grouse but when this monster craft appeared above their heads it didn't take them long to decide that what was sauce for the goose might very possibly be sauce for the gander. Bartlett was borne out when at the first salvo from the little 16-gauge battery the big bird emitted a disheartened honk and tumbled down into the lake where it was retrieved with considerable difficulty by Lial's ocean-going terrier.

The trophy was the "Piece de resistance" at some anniversary observances at the Startup home. Edward Schatzel is a former resident of this city.

Crowd Goes Wild As Kingston Pros Win Over Soldiers

Yellow Jackets Displayed Great Ability in Defeating West Point Service Detachment, 7 to 3, Sunday at Fair Grounds.

Feeling for the undefeated Yellow Jacket eleven, having remained dormant in all previous contests at the Fair Grounds, burst to an overflowing with but two minutes to play Sunday as the Kingstons came from behind in a electrifying pass from Captain Vogt to Schefel to win from the West Point Service Detachment, 7 to 3.

It was a greatly depressed and silent crowd of Kingston cohorts that lined the ropes in this final quarter, for the soldiers from West Point led by three points and it seemed that the Yellow Jackets were about to taste their first defeat. With the battle all but over, "Punk" Vogt received the pigskin and feigned everything he knew while his linemen held out the soldiers, meanwhile Schefel was cautiously stealing his way around left end to the outskirts of the fray.

Harry arrived unmolested and waited, Vogt shooting a spiral from the Kingston yard line to his corner, the pigskin half finally grabbing the rickety and scampering across with the sensational touchdown. Schefel had sat on the bench during the first three quarters, going into the fray as Joe Hoffman was taken out in the last quarter slightly injured.

Crowd Goes Wild.

All crowd order was cast to the winds after this thrilling act, the spectators rushing out upon the field in pursuit of the newly made hero. The fans crowded about Harry Schefel and displayed their appreciation for several minutes. The officials had a difficult time in quelling the near riot, a threat of "a Yellow Jacket yard lost for every Kingston man over the white line," finally sending the Kingston rosters back of the ropes.

Soldiers Score Goal.

A field goal from the eighteen yard line gave the hard fighting soldiers a well earned score in the second half. When near the middle of the field, the West Point quarterback, McGrath, threw a spiral for a thirty-five yard gain to the shadow of the goal posts. Hoffman dragging down the enemy runner on the eight yard line. But then the grizzled West Point tackle, "Porky" Lewis, caused a fifteen yard penalty for the post eleven. Not to be disheartened by this break, the soldiers in the line held in stonewall defense while their captain, McGrath, booted a field between the uprights.

Team of Veterans.

Several men on the Service Detachment eleven were gray-haired veterans. "Porky" Lewis, the portly old right tackle has seen fifty summers while Costello at right guard, with slightly less bulk, is forty-five years of age. Bill Bower, at left end who broke away for forty yards on an intercepted pass in the third period, was professed to be thirty years old. This Service Detachment eleven is tied with the Artillery for the championship of the West Point reservations and will meet its rival in a final game on Thanksgiving Day. Several of the red-blooded army backers whispered about that their quarterback was not displaying all the tricks he knew for fear of Artillery scouts who might be in the throng. The cup awarded to the winner in this pigskin league means even more to the soldiers than their rations.

Several Thrilling Runs.

Both the Yellow Jackets and the Army eleven broke away for great runs in the second half. At the start of the third season, Stanley Colvin got loose for thirty yards. After an exchange of punts and West Point was penalized fifteen yards for interfering in a forward pass. Niner made an effort to boot a field goal from the twenty marker which went bad. A few minutes later Joe Hoffman, the Kingston flashy half, raced down the gridiron after a touchdown. He covered forty yards before he was stopped on the thirty yard line by Kogut at West Point half. After a Kingston penalty of five yards, Bill Bower intercepted a Kingston pass and broke loose for forty yards. Niner, Kingston half, then broke in for glory as he brought Bower to his knees on the twenty yard line. This tackle probably saved the game.

In the later half the Kingston backfield loosed innumerable passes. In the opening of the third period, Colvin received a spiral from Vogt and broke away again for thirty yards to the West Point forty marker. Vince Rice was on the receiving end of another a few minutes later, setting twenty yards. Schefel brought a climax to Kingston's over-head attacks in the final minutes with his winning touchdown.

CROWD GOES WILD

Kingston Line Strong.

The Kingston backfield was strongly supported all during the game by a powerful front wall. Whenever an important play was to be pulled, the linemen played their part nobly. When Joey Hoffman broke away for forty yards he was guarded closely by the Kingston tacklers. Kogut, being the only West Pointer able to worm through. When the Yellow Jackets won its game at the last moment the front wall was again at its best as it proved impregnable while Vogt heaved a pass to Schefel. McNamee and Clark, Kingston's bulky tacklers and Vince Rice stood out prominently on the defensive.

Final Eastern Football Games

New York, Nov. 22 (AP).—Failure, surprise and disaster, thus far dominating figures in the eastern football campaign of 1926, have a choice field to work in on Thanksgiving day and Saturday, the final games of the season.

In a few short weeks Dartmouth fell from a national champion in 1925 to defeat in four major contests, the Big Three, most ancient of American college sport alliances was wrecked through disagreements and numerous upsets occurred.

A direct challenge faces the Jinxes when an undefeated leader among the candidates for eastern supremacy, Brown University meets Colgate on the holiday. Defeat for the Bear would prove the most stirring of the season's upsets.

Pennsylvania, with a record that shows defeat only to an intercollegiate rival, bumps against a Cornell eleven that has played in and out football this season. Pittsburgh's battling crew has little at stake against Penn State, but Syracuse, brilliant and mediocre in turn, can end the season in glory against Columbia. West Virginia and Washington and Jefferson stage another of their teeming battles in the only other outstanding match of the holiday.

But on Saturday, Notre Dame, recognized as the strongest claimant for the national title, carries its perfection into battle against Carnegie Tech, an eleven that startled critics by swamping West Virginia, Saturday, 20-0, and Army and Navy stage their pageant of color and ceremony in Chicago. Boston College stacks a record of no defeats against Holy Cross, whipped for the first time Saturday by lowly Boston University, by the margin of a lone field goal. Georgetown takes the eleven that swamped Fordham 39-0, west to tackle Detroit.

The week end witnessed the passing of many major events for the season. LaFayette closed a sterling campaign that saw neither defeat nor tie with a crushing victory over Lehigh, 35-0. "Mike" Wilson, the Big Touchdown maker from Easton, Pa., closed his sophomore football career with three touchdowns, running his total for the season to 120 while the eleven plowed far out in front of all rivals with a team total of 330.

Yale took the final game of the last Big Three series from Harvard 12-7, as a balm for the bruised Brown, Army, Maryland and Princeton left on the Bulldog's hide.

Celtics Defeated Kingston, 33-31

Kingston again lost to the Celtics Saturday at Paterson, score 33 to 31. The game was nip and tuck throughout, the first half ending in the Celtics' favor, 16 to 15.

Borgman led the scorers with 13 markers and Ricoda with 10.

MARON ALL-STARS STOPPED THE COLLEGIATES.

The winning streak of the Collegiate was broken by the Maron Stars in a fast game in which the Stars took the lead in the early part of the game and were never in danger throughout the entire contest.

Although Erena and Bruck with eight points each were leading scorers, the work of Chipp and Bahl deserves credit, for time after time they stopped the fast offense of the losers.

For the losers Spewick led the scoring with six points.

Lady Derby Takes Dogs When Golfing

The average English society woman's love for her pet dog is proverbial, but it is not often they take them into the realms of sport.

Lady Derby, however, is perhaps an exception with two terriers of which she is particularly fond. An enthusiastic golfer, Lady Derby takes them to the course on a lead, and when wielding the clubs hands the dogs over to the caddy. The shot made, the lady again takes the dog until it is necessary to drive or putt.

Chairman of Rowing

Frederick Sheffield, one of the founders of the American Rowing Association, who has been appointed chairman of the annual convention of the association this year. It is the first time a student was appointed chairman of the annual convention. Sheffield rowed three years while a Yale graduate, and was a member of the Yale crew which won the 1924 Paris Olympics. He is now a member of the law school class of 1927.

Youthful Players Boost to Lacrosse in Canada

Lacrosse is making a strong comeback in Toronto, Canada, according to a survey made by the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association. This is due largely to the attention paid to the development of young players, and this season's games have demonstrated that newcomers are fast finding their feet.

The officials say that never before has the advance from the lower ratings to the highest class in one season been so marked. The old teams that were tottering a year ago have been rebuilt with new talent, the veterans giving the benefit of their experience to the young blood and then retiring in their favor.

This development of younger players has been due to a great extent to a well-directed campaign by the Toronto Suburban League, which is concentrating on the boys of school age.

Braxton and Cullop Go to Washington in Trade

Garland Braxton, promising left-handed pitcher, and Nick Cullop, right-handed pitcher, are going to the Washington team from the Kansas City team as the result of the arrangement by which the Yankees obtained Dutch Ruether, the New York club announced.

When veterans were called on Tuesday by Washington, all but the Yankees refused to put in a claim. Braxton was known then to be suffering from appendicitis, but he took part in the world series.

A league rule prohibits the transfer of players except by waivers after June 15 of any season.

Washington received $1,000 from the Yankees in addition to the two players.

Joe Smith's participation in the world series of 1903 between the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Giants which he was only allowed to change him to the pitcher's position who ever started in a world series game.

HOW TO GAIN 5 POUNDS IN 30 DAYS

If You Don't Do It, Get Your Money Back.

Ask any druggist for a box of McColl's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets. They cost but little, are sugar coated and as pleasant to take as candy.

It's the new pleasant way to take nasty Cod Liver Oil and will not upset the most delicate stomach.

Skinny men and women take them to speedily put on plenty of good, healthy, solid flesh, and for this purpose they are so extremely good that thin men and women often take on five pounds or more in 30 days. As a matter of fact, all druggists are authorized to return your money if you don't take on five pounds in 30 days. (The thin woman gained 15 pounds in six weeks.)

Fish Changes Color

Besides its shifty eye and turnable spine, the halibut is distinctive because it can change color to match its surroundings. This mysterious power is apparently connected in some way with the eyesight, for when the optic nerve is severed the change does not occur. Fishermen prevent this color change by laying the fish with its eye down.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Storms Ravaging European Ports

Paris, Nov. 22 (AP).—Storms, with scarcely a lull between them, are ravaging southwestern Europe. Ports on both Atlantic and Mediterranean coasts are filled with battered vessels. The fishing industry is at a standstill. The Riviera again has suffered badly.

A tidal wave swept bales of merchandise from the wharves at Marseilles, damaged the coast road and stopped the operation of street cars. A wireless communication picked up there from the Spanish steamer Cabo Santa Pola said the vessel was in distress five miles off Pales. She had lost her propeller and was in need of help. The Rhone and most of the other rivers in southeastern France are rising rapidly.

The Swiss canton of Ticino has been visited by a gale, accompanied by a deluge of rain which lasted twenty-four hours. The rivers rose swiftly and flooded the various lakes. An Italian torpedo boat belonging to the anti-smuggling service, was forced to take refuge at the Swiss village of Magadino, on Lake Maggiore.

Gerald Perry and Miss Caroline Bruck, both of this city, were united in marriage this morning at St. Peter's Church by the Rev. John P. Neumann. They were attended by Miss Agnes Bruck, a sister of the bride, as bridesmaid, and John J. Flinnerty as best man.

The Coterie.

Mrs. Eastman was the hostess of The Coterie on Saturday afternoon. A very interesting paper on "Valhalla and the Old Gods," prepared by Mrs. Piper, was read by Mrs. Thompson. This was followed by another able paper on "The Eddas" given by Mrs. Kingman. The next meeting of The Coterie will be with Mrs. Russell.

The evening was spent with progressive pinocle, prizes were awarded and late in the evening delicious refreshments were served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Mellert of Zena, and Mrs. A. Vincent, Mrs. Seth Jocelyn, Arthur Keator, Miss Katherine Mellert, Mrs. David Kidd, Mr. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. Arthur Dolson, Mrs. H. Miller, Mrs. F. Hoffman, Mrs. A. Liscomb and Mr. and Mrs. Williams of Kingston, Mrs. Krause of Zena and Mrs. Sullivan of Port Ewen.

Felt for Chair Legs

Felt glued on the ends of the chair legs will prevent them from marring the polished floor. Also this simple device will do away with the scraping noise chairs generally make when moved about. There are rubber caps manufactured for this purpose, but the felt will be found easier to attach, as it can be cut to any size. Long strips also can be cut to fit the rockers of rocking chairs.

Origin of "Match"

The derivation of the term "match" as used in its present sense is obscure. It is probably from the Greek and Latin "myxa," meaning a nozzle of a lamp. In 1337 we find reference in literature to matches, the name being applied to the wick of a candle or lamp. The earliest reference to matches in their present sense is found in 1580.

Ancient Eastern City

Icolum was in Asia Minor and here St. Paul and St. Barnabas preached in the year 58 A. D. Soliman, the Seljuk, founded a kingdom here in 1074, which lasted until 1307, when it was conquered by the Turks. The place was held by the Crusaders from 1097 to 1190. This part of Asia Minor is still in possession of the Turks.

Resourceful Woman

A western woman, touring Europe, writes home to tell how handy a scarf she was carrying came into use at Rome, says Capper's Weekly. She was dressed with sleeves to the elbow the day she was to visit the Vatican. When she reached the outer door a guard pointed to a sign which said that women who were "indecently dressed" were barred from entering. An interpreter informed her that she must have her arms covered. Whereupon she unwrapped the scarf from her neck, draped it over her shoulders and wound it around her arms. She was admitted. Her companion had to go to the nearest store and rent a black blouse, which she wore over her sport suit.

Comparative Values

"Doctor Smith seems to be a wonderful man," said Mrs. Snobleigh. "He charged me $25 to come and see him."

"Doctor Brown is a robber," said Mrs. Snobleigh. "He charged me $10 to come and see Barbara."

Doctor Smith is the veterinarian. Mimi is Mrs. Snobleigh's Peke dog. Doctor Brown is the physician. Barbara is Mrs. Snobleigh's small daughter. Barbara was really sick. Mimi had merely been fed too much candy. So Mrs. Snobleigh paid Doctor Smith, and Doctor Brown is still waiting for his—Kansas City Star.

And That's That

"You ought to do things worth while, things that will make the world better," said the pious man in the seat with him.

"Apple sauce!" retorted the flaming youth. "You'd never get your name in the paper for doing such things. To get a front-page spread you gotta swim the channel, win a tennis game or knock your opponent in the ring into the arms of Morpheus. Those are the things that count these days."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Judge the Whole by One

A corporation may spread itself over the whole world and may employ one hundred thousand men, but the average person will usually form his judgment of it through his contact with one individual. If this person is rude or inefficient, it will take a lot of kindness and efficiency to overcome the bad impression. Every member of an organization who in any capacity comes in contact with the public is a salesman and the impression he makes is an advertisement, good or bad.—Standard Data Digest.

Dr. Frederick Snyder was called but was unable to bring him out of the coma and he died shortly thereafter. Miss Maines had been more or less of an invalid for the past three years, but with more than ordinary grit when at all able she returned to her post of duty as an employee of the Kingston Cigar Company. During the service Herman La Tour, uncle of Miss Maines, sang "Abide with Me." There were many beautiful floral tributes, among them a beautiful piece of roses from the Kingston Cigar Company, showing the esteem in which Miss Maines was held. The bearers were John Aranillo, Seymour Aranillo, William McElrath, Ira Elsworth, Edward Welch, Arthur Organiste. The interment was in Whitwick cemetery.

World's Oldest Hymn

The oldest Christian hymn known is one credited to Clement of Alexandria and composed probably about the year 200. Henry M. Dexter has given a free paraphrase of it in his "Shepherd of Tender Youth," which is widely used in many hymnals.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

DISEASE AND RADIUM

IF RADIUM is to be the cure-all of our diseases, our country will shortly be the Mecca of the suffering and the hope of the distressed.

There is within the state of New York more of the precious metal than in any other similar area in the world, and the great hospitals are racing with the state authorities to get more. There is in the whole world a few ounces of radium. A hundred thousand dollars' worth of it can be contained in a small lead tube that you could put in your pocket and never know it was there from its bulk.

There is nothing in the world so nearly like radium as the human mind. No two things that are so continually active.

Did you ever realize how continually at work your mind is?

Did you ever try to stop thinking and find out how impossible it is?

Did you ever stop to consider that not a single heart beat, not one function of your body, is possible without some kind of mental action? It is not, of course, conscious effort. You do not think, "I will make my heart beat," but sever the connection between your heart and your brain and see how quickly the heart stops.

We know little or nothing about radium. Even those physicians who are advising its use and spending thousands of dollars in its acquisition are not at all sure that they have discovered a cure for cancer and other malignant growths.

They thought once that bleeding was necessary in a fever, and George Washington died more from the loss of blood than from the disease that attacked him.

The gathering of a considerable fraction of the world's supply of radium in the great hospital institutions of New York, where it will be used by the ablest of the world's physicians, means, however, that the next few years are going to teach us more about its medical properties than we have ever known.

We may find that an all-wise Creator combined in a gram of radium enough medical properties to overcome all disease.

The thing that will solve these problems will be the thing which in its characteristics is most like the thing it is investigating—the power of human thought—the activity of the human brain.

It will be supreme activity pitted against supreme activity, a contest in which reason and imagination working together will be the final victor.

SAWS

FOR THE GOOSE—

TO BE or not to be married—that's still the question. The look in the eyes of the single woman holds aloft her friend's baby ain't no wistful look like the look in the eyes of the little married woman holds aloft her friend's baby lamb.

A lotta famous women gets married so's they can have a manager that'll look after their interests.

The reason some people can't see the silver lining in their clouds, is they're looking for "platinum" studded with diamonds.

FOR THE GANDER—

The feller that's smart enough to be the most consistent liar, is generally too smart to be.

The easiest guy to fool is the one that's concentratin' on his own nose-body else.

The reason you never hear of great deeds being done by small potatoes is because as soon as a guy does a great deed, he stops being a small potato.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 22 (AP).—Constructive forces were actively at work in today's stock market, which moved upward under the leadership of the high priced industrials. Good buying also developed in some of the investment rails, but speculative enthusiasm for those issues had been chilled, temporarily at least, by the unexpected decline in the October net operating income of the Kansas City Southern Railroad.

Money was in plentiful supply at the renewal figure of 4 1/2 per cent. Another sharp upward revision in the government cotton crop estimate caused a break of $1 to $1.50 a bale in cotton futures, but strong buying developed, and prices rallied briskly from the low levels. Meanwhile, raw sugar futures were marked up to new high levels for the season in further reaction of the restriction of the size of the Cuban crop.

Philadelphia Company jumped over 7 points to a record high at 89, and was followed into new high ground by about a dozen other issues, including Consolidated Clear and American Sumatra Tobacco. Renewal of selling pressure against Electric Refrigeration caused another sharp collapse in that stock which fell below 35 to a new low record for the year.

Early gains of 3 points or more were recorded by Woolworth, U. S. Cast Iron Pipe, General Asphalt, Laclede Gas and Coca-Cola.

Atlantic Coast Line sold down 2 points on the announcement of new common stock financing, but the "rights" to purchase the new stock at par on the basis of one share for each five held, were actively traded in around 17.

New Record in Reforestation
More Than Twenty Million Forest Trees Planted in 1926—Equals Two Previous Years—Municipal Forests Make Great Gain and So Do Schools and Individuals.
Albany, Nov. 22.—In his forthcoming report to the legislature, Conservation Commissioner Alexander Macdonald reviews the remarkable progress that has been made this year in the reforestation of idle land. He says:
"The reforestation of land has set a record that a few years ago might have been thought impossible. Last year 19,380,000 trees were distributed from our state nurseries, whereas this year the output was 20,481,112. The state's forest nurseries have been increased and the inventory shows a stock on hand of approximately 80,000,000 young trees. The reforestation of idle land in the State Forest Preserve has been carried on on a more extensive scale than in any other recent year. The total planting this year exceeds the combined plantings of 1924 and 1925, and a trifle more than equals the aggregate plantings made during the first fourteen years of the reforestation movement.—20,481,112 for 1926 as compared with 20,442,226 for the years 1901 to 1914, inclusive.
"About one-fourth of this year's total was planted by the state and three-fourths by municipalities, industrial concerns, schools and individuals. There was a very marked increase in school forests, more than twice as many trees being planted this year as in the three preceding years and about six times as many as during any one year previous.
"There also was a large increase in the number of municipal or community forests. Up to the beginning of the year the total number of such forests that had been started in the state was 153. At the close of the year this number has been increased to 217. An illustrated bulletin on this subject published by the commission this year pointing out the need of such forests to make profitable use of hundreds of thousands of acres of land now idle and showing what can be expected from such forests.
"Since 1921 the reforestation of privately owned land in practically all parts of the state has increased steadily, indicating that reforestation in New York State has become a great popular movement. The number of trees planted each year, aside from those on state land, from 1921 to 1925, inclusive, is as follows:
1921 3,020,770
1922 4,140,773
1923 6,775,879
1924 8,897,440
1925 9,492,020
1926 15,420,860
The report will also contain a comparison of the planting done in 1924, 1925 and 1926, showing the planting done by various classes of planters, as follows:

	1924	1925	1926
State Land (Including State Institutions)	350,050	888,550	5,058,950
Municipalities	1,246,200	1,082,775	2,482,900
Industrialists	1,732,500	2,146,750	2,063,300
Schools	37,500	30,700	238,000
Boy Scouts	30,000	36,000	79,000
Miscellaneous Organizations	578,000	526,150	857,200
Demonstrations	633,200	656,845
Individuals	4,639,550	5,913,000	9,704,162
Total	9,247,090	10,380,570	20,481,112

Progress Marked by Use of Riveted Steel
Down through the centuries man has been experimenting with minerals, striving to develop steels that could be relied upon to possess the greatest strength. Wherever steel plates and shapes are joined, riveting has proven the most dependable method of bringing their seams together. This strength can be mathematically predetermined.

Museum's Bird Collection
More than 900 specimens of Siamese birds will be added to the collection at the United States National Museum in the near future, for a large shipment of skins has been received from Dr. Hugh M. Smith, who is now in Siam. Although British zoologists have exploited the country thoroughly in recent years, Dr. Smith has found several new species. The Siamese collection will prove most useful, museum officials say, for until now it has had few specimens from there. Dr. Smith will remain in Siam for some time investigating the fish fauna for the Siamese government. During that time he also plans to send further collections of birds to the United States.

Guard Against "Flu" With Muterole
Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning signs rub on good old Muterole.
Muterole relieves the congestion and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned menthol and eucalypti without the blarney.
First you feel a warm tingle on the burning nostrils, penetrating the pass, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief. Use Muterole liberally for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

So Mother Muterole is also good in addition to colds, flu, and coughs and small children. Ask for Children's Mutterole.

ROUTINE OF PRISON, PAST AND PRESENT
Some Improvements Made on "Good Old Times."
Alfred Conyes, who has served forty-eight years at Sing Sing, not as a convict but as a keeper, will tell you how he broke a strike in one of the shops in the prereform days. He did it with a hickory club. When he had finished most of the prisoners went back to work, some went to the hospital and the rest lock-stepped back to their cells.
The ringleaders in the last group went to the dungeon. There they were handcuffed and strung up by their wrists, their feet dangling in the air until they cried for mercy.
After that they were thrown into dark cells and for a period of from three to ten days were fed on one slice of bread and one gill of water every twenty-four hours.
The dungeon is still there. It is a long row of cells which, before the outer doors were removed, could be shut in so that no ray of light entered. There was hard stone to sleep on and a space three feet by six to stretch in. Handily situated at the end of the row were two padded cells for those who went insane. The padded cells were necessary parts of the prison equipment in the old days.
That was Sing Sing in the days when the prisoners wore stripes, when they were not permitted to communicate with each other, and when the slightest infraction of the harsh prison rules met with the severest punishment.

According to common report the prison of today is heaven in comparison and the lot of the convicts something like a bed of roses. There are movie shows, books and magazines, baseball diamonds and basket ball courts, comfortable beds and the best of food.
A gong in the cell block rings at 6:45 o'clock in the morning and the prisoners roll out of their cots. By 7:15 they are in the mess hall for breakfast and on a typical day are served apple sauce, rice, bread baked in the prison bakeries and coffee.
At eight o'clock a whistle blows and the men start their work, some in the shoe factory, others in the brush factory, the print shop, the sheet-metal shop, the power house, the knitting mills, others on road construction, a hundred of them on construction of the new prison, others in the office on clerical work, still others in the greenhouses and gardens, the shipping room, etc.

Everyone has a job of some kind, but the work, except in a few instances, is not arduous. Those who make the furnaces in the power house and wheel the coal to wheelbarrows earn their prison ration by the sweat of their brows, but those occupied in the shops and on road construction do not work harder than men outside engaged in similar occupations. They talk at their work and it is not unusual to hear one of them burst into song. They appear contented and well satisfied with their lot.

Naming Coney Island
New Coney Island, New York city's popular resort, got its name in no clear but one version of its early history is that Morris Hoffman, whose ship, the Half Moon, lay to off the island in 1498, gave it the name Coney, a corruption of Coleman, the name of a petty officer on the Half Moon, killed by the Indians and buried in the sands nearby. Another version is that Coney is a distortion of Cough, Dutch for rabbit, because the island was supposed to be infested with rabbits, says the Dictionary of Coney. Dutch for rabbit, because the island was supposed to be infested with rabbits, says the Dictionary of Coney. Dutch for rabbit, because the island was supposed to be infested with rabbits, says the Dictionary of Coney.
